This is a really difficult period for the entire hospitality sector, many venues are severely short staffed, and we have to operate in an entirely different and much more difficult way than we have functioned for many years. Please spare a thought for hospitality staff where ever you are, as its highly likely they are doing the job of two and they are not operating in the usual and much easier way we all worked pre-pandemic. Good things come to those who wait!

Please inform one of our team if you have any questions, allergies or intolerances before ordering.
